

ISLM ACTIVITY AT THE OAKWOOD SCHOOL GREENVILLE, NORTH CAROLINA

By Fadekemi Oyewusi Ph.D.

Visiting Scholar
Department of Interdisciplinary Professions (Library Science Program)
College of Education
East Carolina University
Greenville, North Carolina

Associate Professor
Center for Educational Media Resource Studies
Faculty of Education
University of Ibadan
Oyo State
Nigeria

The Oakwood School Greenville, North Carolina is a PreK-12, coed, non-sectarian independent school setting. The school is one of the educational setting available in Greenville North Carolina that goes after a 21st Century education, teaching the whole child through hands-on, experiential learning among other initiatives. I visited the school during the ISLM as a visiting research scholar from Nigeria to East Carolina University. I had a wonderful time in the Library with Dr Carol Brown (Librarian) and the school management were very supportive and enthusiastic.

I got to talk to the 3rd Grade class during their library lesson and ISLM 2018 topic was discussed. These children were very keen to discuss “WHY I LOVE MY LIBRARY” which was the theme of ISLM 2018. I told them why I loved my library and told them to tell me why they loved their library and write it out on papers. Some of the things they wrote were amazing!

MY PRESENTATION

Why I Love My LIBRARY

FADEKEMI OYEWUSI Ph.D.

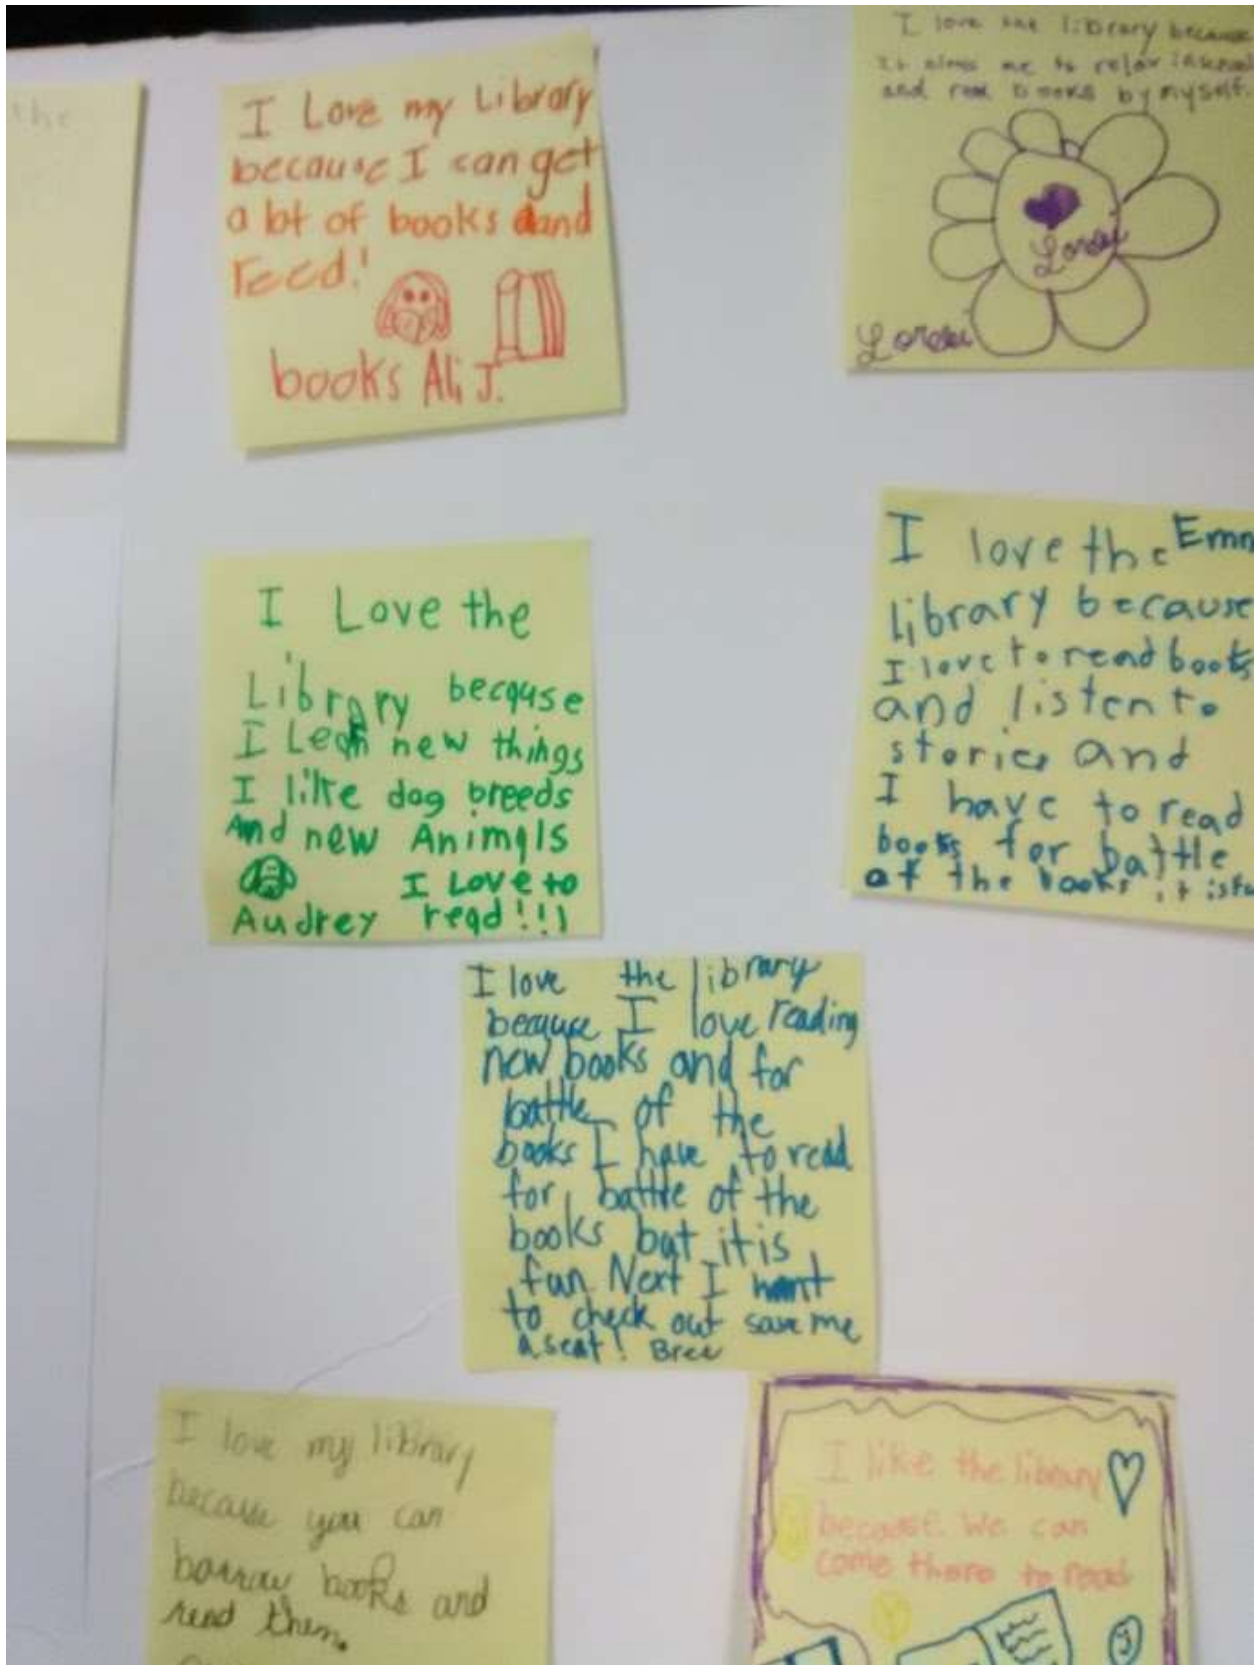

*Visiting Research Scholar
Department of Interdisciplinary Professions (Library Science Program)
East Carolina University*

ECU

International School Library

Slide 1 of 22

SOME OF THE LOVELY THINGS THE CHILDREN WROTE

I like the library because
• I learn a lot
• I love books.

JAMES

I love the library
because knowledge is power
and it's the best thing
that books do to you.
I mean it!

Casius

Why I Love the Library
by Trent

Why I

